Dear prospective parents and students,

Thank you for considering Concordia Lutheran School in Fort Wayne, where we are Engaging Hearts and Minds. Your interest demonstrates the value you place on education as a doorway to future success. There are certainly many questions that you will consider in making a choice of schools.

- What is the size of the school and the student-teacher ratio?
- Are new students welcomed and treated with respect?
- What is the curriculum and what world view does it reflect?
- Are the teachers effective while also showing Christian love and concern?
- What is offered to students beyond the core curriculum?
- How do students grow in knowledge and skills and how do they evidence this growth?

Choosing a school is a challenge. By considering a distinctively Christian school you recognize that there is more to education than test scores and grades. Preparing children to be productive citizens who positively influence the world requires more than academics. It requires motivation to be ethical, to be caring and to be responsible. The faculty and staff of Concordia Lutheran School believe that this motivation is a response to God's love for each person as evidenced in the work of Jesus Christ. Helping students to understand and to trust in God's love and then to live accordingly is what makes a Christian school experience unique.

Since 1899, Concordia has effectively educated children in a setting where God's love is taught, modeled and lived. For over a century, we have maintained the belief that quality staff and programs must be combined with Christian faith and practice in order to provide the best educational opportunity.

Thank you again for considering Concordia Lutheran School. Whether you are just beginning the educational journey or you are looking for a change for an older student, we believe a Concordia Lutheran School education is an investment in the future; the future of individual children and the future of this world.
